VIM thanks students

Volunteers in Medicine would like to thank the Bloomington High School North Student Council for donating $1,000 to the free medical clinic. During Homecoming Week, the BHSN Student Council hosted a kick-off event where students were able to buy admission to enjoy an evening of food, music, and tie-dye. That, combined with outside donations enabled them to make this generous donation.

The community-operated, community-owned and community-financed Volunteers in Medicine clinic provides free medical, dental, mental health, specialists and medications to individuals who are uninsured or medically underserved.

VIM recently celebrated its 10th anniversary of providing free health care to people otherwise unable to afford medical services.
