United Way's "Empowering Your Community. One Donation at a Time" campaign total now stands at $1,129,462.

The campaign saw an increase of nearly $19,000 in the past week.

Indiana University faculty, staff and students finalized their donation this week with a donation of $802,130. Funds from IU's efforts have been added to the campaign total throughout the winter.

Bank of America employees added a $1,172 donation.

Employees at Volunteers in Medicine, a United Way member agency, donated an additional $1,614 to this year's campaign. Past donations to the United Way have made it possible for 1,187 uninsured, low-income adults to receive 3,902 preventive and primary care visits at no charge at VIM, which also provided more than 8,577 medications at no charge, the United Way reported.
