Volunteers in Medicine is honored to be the recipient of a donation of $8,125 from 50+ Men Who Care to forward its mission of providing medical, dental and mental health services for uninsured residents of Monroe and Owen counties.

50+ Men Who Care is a giving group of men who make quarterly donations to not-for-profit organizations in Monroe County. "We chose VIM at this point in time in gratitude for the wonderful service the clinic provides, and as a tribute to Dr. Raj Haddawi, the founder, who recently moved with his family to North Carolina," said Steve Martin, the group's convener. The checks were presented to Nancy Richman, VIM executive director, at the Volunteers in Medicine clinic on April 9 by Marcus Debro, who nominated VIM at the meeting.

Present for the celebration were 50+ Men Who Care members, VIM employees and board members.

Membership in 50+ Men Who Care is open to all men who agree to donate to the selected local nonprofits quarterly. Contact Steve Martin at smartin@gwentgroup.com for more.

The community-operated, community-owned and community-financed Volunteers in Medicine clinic is modeled after a national program with a history of success in other communities around the country. The clinic, which opened in 2007, is located at 811 W. Second St.

To learn more or to volunteer for the Volunteers in Medicine clinic, visit www.vimmonroecounty.org online or send an email to info@VIMMonroeCounty.org.

To make a donation to the clinic, contact the Bloomington Hospital Foundation at 812-353-5002.
